

ASTM Bulletins—1938

Subject Index Papers and Reports

Acoustical and General Testing.

Non-Destructive Testing in the United States of America. H. H. Lester, R. L. Sanford and N. L. Mochel. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 5.

Alloy Steel.

Some Pros and Cons of Radiography. G. C. McCormick. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 25.

Surface Cracks on Large 18 per cent Chromium, 8 per cent Nickel Alloy Steel Castings. Peter R. Kosting. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 17.

Asphalt.

Research on Control of Cracking of Asphalt Pavements. Lloyd F. Rader. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 31.

Atmosphere.

Balloon Exploration of the Upper Atmosphere. Brian O'Brien. No. 91, March, 1938, p. 5.

Balloon Exploration.

Balloon Exploration of the Upper Atmosphere. Brian O'Brien. No. 91, March, 1938, p. 5.

Boiler Feedwater.

Report of the Joint Research Committee on Boiler Feedwater Studies. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 32.

Castings.

Radiography in Industry. H. H. Lester. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 5.

Some Pros and Cons of Radiography. G. C. McCormick. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 25.

Surface Cracks on Large 18 per cent Chromium, 8 per cent Nickel Alloy Steel Castings. Peter R. Kosting. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 17.

Cellulose.

A Method for Measuring the Fluidity of Dispersions of Cellulose in Cuprammonium Solution. R. T. Mease. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 21.

Cement.

Cooperative Study of Methods of Determining Free Lime in Portland Cement and Clinker. W. C. Hanna, T. A. Hicks, and G. A. Saeger. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 47.

A Discussion Incited by the Report on Pebble Mortars in the 1938 Report of Committee C-1 on Cement. H. J. Gilkey. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 33.

A Preliminary Consideration of Some Proposed Methods of Sampling and Testing Mortar for Unit Masonry. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 40.

Compression Testing.

Recent Developments in European Research on Fatigue of Metals. Richard P. Seelig. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 23; No. 95, December, 1938, p. 15. Discussion, No. 95, December, 1938, p. 22.

Concrete.

A Method of Evaluating Concrete Data by Correlation. H. W. Leavitt. No. 91, March, 1938, p. 15.

Corrosion.

Recent Developments in European Research on Fatigue of Metals. Richard P. Seelig. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 15; Discussion, p. 22.

Report of the Joint Research Committee on Boiler Feedwater Studies. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 32.

Testing of Zinc (Hot Galvanized) Coatings on Hardware. L. W. Hopkins. No. 92, May, 1938, p. 7.

Cracking.

Research on Control of Cracking of Asphalt Pavements. Lloyd F. Rader. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 31.

Surface Cracks on Large 18 per cent Chromium, 8 per cent Nickel Alloy Steel Castings. Peter R. Kosting. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 17.

Electrical Testing Methods.

Non-Destructive Testing in the United States of America. H. H. Lester, R. L. Sanford and N. L. Mochel. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 5.

Fatigue.

Recent Developments in European Research on Fatigue of Metals. Richard P. Seelig. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 23; No. 95, December, 1938, p. 15. Discussion, No. 95, December, 1938, p. 22.

Film.

Important Considerations in Soil Mechanics. C. A. Hogentogler and Harold Allen. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 15. Discussion, p. 19.

Finishes, Textiles.

Consumer Testing of Finished Textiles. Nannene Gowdy. No. 92, May, 1938, p. 9.

Crease Resistant Textile Finishes as Consumers View Them. Ephraim Freedman. No. 92, May, 1938, p. 13.

Permanent Textile Finishes—The Manufacturer's Standpoint. K. H. Barnard. No. 92, May, 1938, p. 14.

Gage.

A Level-Bubble Strain Gage. Rex L. Brown. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 16.

Hardware.

Testing of Zinc (Hot Galvanized) Coatings on Hardware. L. W. Hopkins. No. 92, May, 1938, p. 7.

Lime.

Cooperative Study of Methods of Determining Free Lime in Portland Cement and Clinker. W. C. Hanna, T. A. Hicks and G. A. Saeger. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 47.

A Preliminary Consideration of Some Proposed Methods of Sampling and Testing Mortar for Unit Masonry. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 40.

Magnetic Testing.

Non-Destructive Testing in the United States of America. H. H. Lester, R. L. Sanford and N. L. Mochel. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 5.

Masonry.

A Preliminary Consideration of Some Proposed Methods of Sampling and Testing Mortar for Unit Masonry. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 40.

Metallography.

Surface Cracks on Large 18 per cent Chromium, 8 per cent Nickel Alloy Steel Castings. Peter R. Kosting. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 17.

Mortars.

A Discussion Incited by the Report on Pebble Mortars in the 1938 Report of Committee C-1 on Cement. H. J. Gilkey. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 33.

A Preliminary Consideration of Some Proposed Methods of Sampling and Testing Mortar for Unit Masonry. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 40.

Report of Committee C-12 on Mortar. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 31.

Non-Destructive Testing.

Non-Destructive Testing in the United States of America. H. H. Lester, R. L. Sanford and N. L. Mochel. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 5.

Radiography in Industry. H. H. Lester. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 5.

Some Pros and Cons of Radiography. G. C. McCormick. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 25.

Packings.

Service Tests for Packings. F. C. Thorn. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 29.

pH Value.

The Need for pH Standards. Baker Wingfield, W. H. Goss, Walter J. Hamer, and S. F. Acree. No. 90, January, 1938, p. 15.

Protective Coatings.

Testing of Zinc (Hot Galvanized) Coatings on Hardware. L. W. Hopkins. No. 92, May, 1938, p. 7.

Radiography.

Radiography in Industry. H. H. Lester. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 5.

Some Pros and Cons of Radiography. G. C. McCormick. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 25.

Research.

Dividends from Research. A. E. White. No. 92, May, 1938, p. 5.

Report of the Joint Research Committee on Boiler Feedwater Studies. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 32.

Road Materials.

Research on Control of Cracking of Asphalt Pavements. Lloyd F. Rader. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 31.

Testing Work in Indiana Highway Project. W. K. Hatt. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 30.

Rubber.

Service Tests for Packings. F. C. Thorn. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 29.

Shear Testing.

Important Considerations in Soil Mechanics. C. A. Hogentogler and Harold Allen. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 15. Discussion p. 19.

Soil.

Important Considerations in Soil Mechanics. C. A. Hogentogler and Harold Allen. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 15. Discussion, p. 19.

Testing Work in Indiana Highway Project. W. K. Hatt. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 30.

Velocity of Settlement of Soil Particles in Water. T. H. Evans. No. 91, March, 1938, p. 13.

Stainless Steels.

Surface Cracks on Large 18 per cent Chromium, 8 per cent Nickel Alloy Steel Castings. Peter R. Kisting. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 17.

Standardization.

Progress in Wool Standardization. G. E. Hopkins. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 12.

Some Fundamentals in Standardization—Thirty Years in Retrospect. Frank B. Jewett. No. 90, January, 1938, p. 7.

Statistical Analysis.

A Method of Evaluating Concrete Data by Correlation. H. W. Leavitt. No. 91, March, 1938, p. 15.

Strain Gage.

A Level-Bubble Strain Gage. Rex L. Brown. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 16.

Tension Testing.

Recent Developments in European Research on Fatigue of Metals. Richard P. Seelig. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 23; No. 95, December, 1938, p. 15. Discussion, No. 95, December, 1938, p. 22.

Testing Apparatus.

A Level-Bubble Strain Gage. Rex L. Brown. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 16.

A Method for Measuring the Fluidity of Dispersions of Cellulose in Cuprammonium Solution. R. T. Mease. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 21.

Recent Developments in European Research on Fatigue of Metals. Richard P. Seelig. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 23; No. 95, December, 1938, p. 15. Discussion, No. 95, December, 1938, p. 22.

Service Tests for Packings. F. C. Thorn. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 29.

Testing, Methods of.

Consumer Testing of Finished Textiles. Nannene Gowdy. No. 92, May, 1938, p. 9.

Cooperative Study of Methods of Determining Free Lime in Portland Cement and Clinker. W. C. Hanna, T. A. Hicks and G. A. Saeger. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 47.

A Discussion Incited by the Report on Pebble Mortars in the 1938 Report of Committee C-1 on Cement. H. J. Gilkey. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 33.

A Method for Measuring the Fluidity of Dispersions of Cellulose in Cuprammonium Solution. R. T. Mease. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 21.

The Need for pH Standards. Baker Wingfield, W. H. Goss, Walter J. Hamer, and S. F. Acree. No. 90, January, 1938, p. 15.

Non-Destructive Testing in the United States of America. H. H. Lester, R. L. Sanford and N. L. Mochel. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 5.

A Preliminary Consideration of Some Proposed Methods of Sampling and Testing Mortar for Unit Masonry. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 40.

Radiography in Industry. H. H. Lester. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 5.

Recent Developments in European Research on Fatigue of Metals. Richard P. Seelig. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 23; No. 95, December, 1938, p. 15. Discussion, No. 95, December, 1938, p. 22.

Service Tests for Packings. F. C. Thorn. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 29.

Testing of Zinc (Hot Galvanized) Coatings on Hardware. L. W. Hopkins. No. 92, May, 1938, p. 7.

Testing Work in Indiana Highway Project. W. K. Hatt. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 30.

Tests for the Physical Properties of Textile Fabrics. Ethel L. Phelps. No. 90, January, 1938, p. 11.

Textiles.

Consumer Testing of Finished Textiles. Nannene Gowdy. No. 92, May, 1938, p. 9.

Crease Resistant Textile Finishes as Consumers View Them. Ephraim Freedman. No. 92, May, 1938, p. 13.

A Method for Measuring the Fluidity of Dispersions of Cellulose in Cuprammonium Solution. R. T. Mease. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 21.

Permanent Textile Finishes—The Manufacturer's Standpoint. K. H. Barnard. No. 92, May, 1938, p. 14.

Progress in Wool Standardization. G. E. Hopkins. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 12.

Tests for the Physical Properties of Textile Fabrics. Ethel L. Phelps. No. 90, January, 1938, p. 11.

Viscosity.

A Method for Measuring the Fluidity of Dispersions of Cellulose in Cuprammonium Solution. R. T. Mease. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 21.

Water.

Report of the Joint Research Committee on Boiler Feedwater Studies. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 32.

Velocity of Settlement of Soil Particles in Water. T. H. Evans. No. 91, March, 1938, p. 13.

Weld Tests.

Radiography in Industry. H. H. Lester. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 5.

Recent Developments in European Research on Fatigue of Metals. Richard P. Seelig. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 15. Discussion, p. 22.

Wool.

Progress in Wool Standardization. G. E. Hopkins. No. 93, August, 1938, p. 12.

X-ray.

Radiography in Industry. H. H. Lester. No. 94, October, 1938, p. 5.

Some Pros and Cons of Radiography. G. C. McCormick. No. 95, December, 1938, p. 25.
